Shortly afterward the boy's cousin left, and Maurice went immediately to the front room, the office of his uncle, Dr. Maurice Chaims, from it his uncle's revolver. Then he consecrated them. went back into the living room and wrote the following letter:

Dear Friends: I was just tired of this dreary and unpicasant life. That's all. Good-by. MAURICE CHAIMS.

Grandmother Heard Shot, He went into the bedroom and locked the door, and as his grandmother started to open the outside door on her return she heard a shot. She opened the door hed left the two boys, she ran out into

There she found a policeman, who helped her force the door of the bed-room. Her grandson was lying in bed with a bullet hole behind his ear. By the time the doctor arrived from the Harlem Hospital he was dead.

None of the boy's family could give any reason for his suicide. He came to New York four weeks ago in anticipation of the Hudson-Fulton celebration. Two weeks later he was joined by his father, and they had seen the sights together. He had decided that he would have an opportunity to make something of his the Order of the Visitation, was born in life by staying in New York, and had so 1567, in the Castle of Sales, Annecy, and 1567, in the Castle of Sales, Annecy, and

DEPEWS RETURN HOME.

Wife of Senator Bears Scar from

Taxicab Accident in Paris. New York, Oct. 9 .- Senator Chauncev M. Depew and Mrs. Depew, who have been abroad several months, returned to-day by the American liner New York. Mrs. Depew was injured by the overturning of a taxicab in which she and her husband were riding in Paris a few weeks ago, and she still bears a slight scar over her left temple. The Senator suspects that the cabi driver had been indulging too heavily in absinthe.

In regard to national and local politics, Senator Depew would say nothing. He had dismissed from his mind in the period of his vacation all thought of business and politics, he said, but he could not resist the temptation to make a speech at the ship's concert on Friday night. His plan was an order of charity, as the name suggests. He wished his religious daughters to visit the poor and sick in their homes and in the hospitals, but, with his customary meekness and humility, he yielded the point to the Cardinal of Lyons, and his modest congregation was erected into a cloistered and con templative order. Later, by papal dis pensation, the nuns were empowered to ceive and educate young women.

LAMPHERE'S REQUEST DENIED.

Farmhand in Jail for Gunness Murders Must Serve Life Sentence.

Indianapolis, Oct. 9 .- Gov. Marshall today denied the written request of relatives for clemency for Ray Lamphere who is serving a life sentence in the State prison for implication in the murders on the Gunness farm, in Laporte County. The governor takes the ground that Lamphere's health is not so seriously impaired as to call for executive into the fire.

In a letter received at the office of the governor during his absence it wes represented that Lamphere was dying of tuberculosis, and the governor was asked to release the prisoner in order that he might die outside the prison.
